Manipur: BJP, Cong gird for by-elections of 13 assembly seats

Political parties war not to hold by-polls amid Covid times in Manipur

SUN SATURDAY, AUGUST 22, 2020

The Congress and the Bharatiya Janata Party (BJP) have warned that they would not contest by-elections of 13 assembly seats in the state if they are held.

The announcement was made by both the parties as a result of coronavirus restrictions and concerns over the surge in the number of cases.

BJP

BJP leader and senior party leader of Manipur, Yijeng Singh, said that the party would not participate in the by-elections and urged the police to nab the political leaders responsible for the political casualties.

He added that the party would take a decision on whether to participate in the by-elections after reviewing the situation post-lockdown.

Cong

Congress spokesperson and head of the party's media cell, Dr. Manjolina Dev, said that the party would not hold any by-elections until the situation normalizes.

She added that the party was concerned about the surge in cases and was looking into the possibility of conducting by-elections after the lockdown.

UPPP-BPF lock horns ahead of BTCP polls

The UPPP-BPF lock horns ahead of the BTCP polls with both parties claiming victory.

The UPPP-BPF claimed victory in the recent assembly elections, while the BTCP accused them of rigging.

Both parties have accused each other of rigging the elections and are preparing for the upcoming polls.

The Right to Life with Dignity

Naga Accord seems to be unravelling

The prime ministerial agreement signed between the Nagaland government and the National Socialist Council of Nagaland (Isak-Muivah) to end 40 years of armed conflict and bring peace to the region has, in 2020, seemingly unraveled. The Nagaland government, under the leadership of枕山, has recently taken a firm stance against the agreement, possibly due to concerns over perceived violations of democratic norms and the protection of human rights. This decision could have profound implications for the region's political and social landscape.

Do we need a JPC to probe into Facebook digital political bias?

By: Aseem Pahuja

A new decree of the Information and Broadcasting Ministry has led to a debate on whether a Joint Parliamentary Committee (JPC) should be formed to probe into Facebook's alleged political bias. This issue has raised concerns about the potential impact of social media on the democratic process, and the role of government in ensuring a fair and impartial digital environment.

Whether it will be right for women to increase the age of marriage or not

By: Dr. Vivek Seahra

The debate over increasing the age of marriage for women is a complex one, involving considerations of gender equality, the protection of vulnerable groups, and the broader socio-economic context. While increasing the age of marriage may be intended to address concerns about child marriage and its associated risks, it also raises questions about the importance of reproductive choice and the potential impact on women's autonomy.

At the heart of anti-media initiatives

By: Niladri Sen

The recent initiatives by the government to limit the unfettered freedom of speech on social media platforms, such as Twitter and Facebook, have raised concerns about the erosion of democratic principles and the potential for curtailment of individual rights. The right to communicative expression is a cornerstone of democratic societies, and any attempt to curb this freedom could have far-reaching implications for the conduct of public discourse and the preservation of democratic values.

Right to Information (RTI) and the JPC

By: Shri Ram

The Right to Information (RTI) Act, which is central to the democratic fabric of India, has come under scrutiny with the formation of a Joint Parliamentary Committee (JPC). This move raises questions about the adequacy of the existing mechanisms for oversight and accountability, and the potential for further constriction of the right to information.

Gas leak at a site of unauthorised cultivation in Gujarat

A gas leak occurred at a site of unauthorised cultivation in Gujarat, which highlights the ongoing challenge of balancing industrial development with environmental protection. This incident underscores the need for robust regulatory frameworks and stringent adherence to safety protocols to prevent such incidents in the future.

Aruna Kashinath

Aruna Kashinath's perspective on the right to information is significant. As a key proponent of the RTI Act, her insights offer a critical perspective on the challenges and opportunities associated with this fundamental right. The RTI Act, in her view, is a powerful tool for ensuring transparency and accountability, but its effective implementation requires sustained efforts and a commitment to the principles of democracy and good governance.

Biden accepts Dem presidential nomination, says Trump has clouded US in darkness

WASHINGTON, Aug 20 (AP) — Joe Biden pledged that he will be an agent of change after formally accepting the Democratic presidential nomination on Thursday, saying he will put the “soul of the nation” above the “ego of the president.”

“The time for him is over. The time for us is now,” Biden said. “We’ve never been more divided as a nation, and we can never afford to be divided again.”

Biden said his campaign was not just about winning votes, but winning the heart of America.

The incident occurred due to "virtual" and "inaccurate" evaluation of the situation, the Prime Minister of India told a TV news channel "we can rescue them if we can rescue them at the earliest," he said. All the bodies were brought to a local hospital for post-mortem. Telangana Chief Minister K Chandrasekhar Rao, expressing shock over the incident, said in a party meeting by the CSE that the blaze was caused by a short circuit in the plant's control room. The fire broke out at 10.30 PM on Thursday night and the rescue couldn't be done due to the thick smoke during the fire. The plant is located 125 meters away from the Krishna river until 12 PM on Friday. Besides, NDRF, SDRF, and the state rescue team looked after the incident. The State Left power station, about 200 km from capital, has six units with a combined capacity of 900 MW. Power generation has been stopped in the power station. Though the fire was brought under control, thick smoke engulfed the underground area of the power plant, the report said.
